Survey No.: M:30-21 (PACS 5.3) Construction Date: 1947
Name: E. Charleton and Margaret D. Graves Property
Location: 6151 Tuckerman Lane, Rockville Vicinity, Montgomery County

Private/Private Residence/Occupied/Good/Restricted

Description:

The E. Charleton and Margaret D. Graves Property is located on the north side of Tuckerman Lane in the Rockville vicinity of Montgomery County. The property consists of a 1½-story, 3-bay cottage and a 1-story, 3-bay workshop. The cottage, constructed in 1947, has shed wings on the east and west elevations and a large deck on the north elevation.

Significance:

The E. Charleton and Margaret D. Graves Property is located on land that belonged to the Woodward family in the early twentieth century. In 1925, Morton Luchs, builder of the property at 6141 Tuckerman Lane (M:30-22), acquired 38.13 hectares (94.22 acres) from the Woodward family. In 1934, the land was bought by the Luxmanor Corporation, developers of the surrounding Luxmanor subdivision. E. Charleton and Margaret D. Graves acquired a 0.39 hectare (0.97 acre) lot from the Luxmanor Corporation in 1947. The property passed through a number of owners in the late twentieth century. The current owner John E. Brownell, acquired the property in 1995.

Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

The E. Charleton and Margaret D. Graves Property is located on the north side of Tuckerman Lane in the Rockville vicinity of Montgomery County. The property consists of a 1½-story, 3-bay cottage and a 1-story, 3-bay workshop. The cottage, constructed in 1947, has shed wings on the east and west elevations and a large deck on the north elevation.

The cottage has a brick foundation and exterior walls covered in wood shingles. The asphalt-shingle, side-gable roof has a shed dormer on the north slope and a deep, boxed cornice. A brick chimney is located in the east gable end. The 6/6 double-hung windows are original. The windows on the south (front) elevation have louvered shutters.

On the south, or front elevation, the main entry is located in the center bay. Four wood steps lead to the entry. The half-glass door has a plain surround. A simple pediment with an curved underside projects from the roof above the door. Beneath the pediment are scrolled brackets. On the main block, a window is located on each side of the door. The shed wings to the east and west each have one window on this elevation.

The west elevation has no fenestration at the first-story level. A 1-light awning window and two 2-light fixed-sash windows are located in the gable.

A modern, wood-frame deck stretches across the north elevation. An entry into the basement is located at the west end of the exposed foundation. On the first story, double glass doors leading to the deck are located in the center bay of the main block. Two windows are located west of the doors. East of the doors are two, small, 4-light casement windows and one full-size double-hung window. The shed wings to the east and west each have one window on this elevation. Four windows are evenly spaced across the full-width shed dormer.

On the east elevation, the shed wing has a single window. Two small, 2-light, fixed-sash windows flank the chimney at the attic level of the main block.

This house has undergone little alteration. The windows in the west gable are modern, as are the double doors on the north elevation and the deck. The cottage otherwise retains its original appearance.

North of the cottage is a 1-story, 3-bay workshop. The shop has a rubble stone foundation, wood shingle walls and an asphalt-shingle, side-gable roof. The roof has a front gable on the south elevation and a wood-frame cupola. On the south elevation, the shop has centered double batten doors. Two other batten doors are located on the east and west ends of this elevation. A small batten door is located in the gable. The west elevation has two sets of paired, 1-light casement windows at different heights on the first story. A double-hung window is located in the gable. The north elevation has two sets of paired, 1-light casement windows. The east elevation has a garage bay in the north end and a 1-light, fixed-sash window in the south end. A double-hung window is located in the gable. The north end of this building was once open. All of the windows and doors are modern. The materials and style of this building indicate that it may have originally been associated with the property at 6141 Tuckerman Lane (M:30-22).

Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

The E. Charleton and Margaret D. Graves Property is located on land that belonged to the Woodward family in the early twentieth century. In 1925, Morton Luchs, builder of the property at 6141 Tuckerman Lane (M:30-22), acquired 38.13 hectares (94.22 acres) from the Woodward family. In 1934, the land was bought by the Luxmanor Corporation, developers of the surrounding Luxmanor subdivision. E. Charleton and Margaret D. Graves acquired a 0.39 hectare (0.97 acre) lot from the Luxmanor Corporation in 1947. The property passed through a number of owners in the late twentieth century. The current owner John E. Brownell, acquired the property in 1995.

The E. Charleton and Margaret D. Graves Property is located south of the City of Rockville. Rockville became the County seat when Montgomery County was created in 1776. Through most of the nineteenth century, Rockville was a courthouse village, surrounded by agricultural land. It remained a small town until the coming of the Metropolitan Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in 1873. The railroad brought summer and weekend visitors, and the resort trade encouraged the rapid expansion of Rockville, both in size and population. Many summer hotel patrons built summer residences and others became year-round residents.

Following the rapid growth from the 1870s to the 1890s, the expansion of Rockville stabilized until a second development boom after World War II. The growth of the Federal government in nearby Washington, D.C. in the years after the War, spurred considerable suburban expansion in Rockville and surrounding areas. Access to the Capital by rail and improved roadways encouraged this suburban expansion (Rockville Historic District Commission 1973).

The E. Charleton and Margaret D. Graves Property is an example of a vernacular cottage. Between 1870 and 1940 the vernacular cottage style was typically built for Americans of modest means. They are characterized by simple ornamentation and mass-produced components, such as door frames, moldings, sash and window units, and porch decoration. The development of post-Civil War machinery capable of producing large amounts of standardized housing elements, such as those found in cottages, contributed greatly to the development of the modern American housing industry. Designs for vernacular cottages were obtained from popular magazines, such as House Beautiful, or carpenter's and builder's journals, such as American Builder. A variety of frontable, side-gable, cross-gable and hipped roof frame cottages were developed in the early to mid-twentieth century. Front-gable and hipped roof cottages are primarily 1 to 1½-stories tall, 3-bays wide and several rooms deep. Side-gable and cross-gable structures are usually 2 to 2½-stories tall, are typically 2 to 3-bays in width and vary from one to three rooms deep. They usually include a porch covered with a shed roof. Porches are supported by posts often containing machine-produced Victorian ornamentation. Some cottages feature ornamentation drawn from Craftsman style or Colonial Revival architecture (Gottfried and Jennings 1988, viii-xv).

National Register Evaluation:

Constructed in 1947, the E. Charleton and Margaret D. Graves Property is not eligible for the National Register of Historic Places. The property is not eligible under Criterion A, as research conducted indicates no association with any historic events or trends significant in the development of national, state, or local history. Historic research indicates that the property has no association with persons who have made specific contributions to history, and therefore, it does not meet Criterion B. It is not eligible under Criterion C because it is an indistinctive property type. Many vernacular cottages exist within the project area, and this one is not an outstanding example. Also, the replacement of some windows and doors have compromised the integrity of the property. Finally, the property has no known potential to yield important information, and therefore, is not eligible under Criterion D.
